Family Update

It has been a while since I have given you any family news so I figured I'd interrupt the series on the Four "S"s of Bridges and include a few family items in this letter.

Sheila is still working at Chick-fil-A as the Catering Director. Her hours have been cut back due to Covid, but they are still very busy with drive-through and curb service. Back in November while she was delivering a catering order she slipped and fell forward, and her fall was stopped by a cement trash can across the bridge of her nose! She required surgery to re-align things and is finally in the last stages of recovery and is beginning to be able to breath normally again.

Two of our three children are now unemployed due to the pandemic and it is yet to be seen how/when that will change. Since all three of them are currently in town, they came over on Easter and we had fun tie-dyeing t-shirts together - while wearing masks.

An online Bible Study

... but not the kind that we are working towards. But, God is still active amid the uncertainty this pandemic has brought. For example; one of our students, Tom, will be returning to Japan in a couple of weeks, so a team member wanted to be sure Tom had a clear understanding of the gospel before he left. When she offered him the opportunity to trust Jesus he said "yes"! Please pray for him as he returns home and seeks Christian community for fellowship and discipleship.

We are grateful for you and are praying for you. Please let us know how you and your family are being affected by the current world situation.

Yours for reaching the Nations. Here. Now.
