

The Greenwood Report

September 2015

Summer Wrap up

Joshua Graduates
And we might say Sheila graduated as well, now that she has no more home school students. Josh is pursuing further education at Mesa Community College for the time being.

Vacation Bible School

Sheila was the Director again this year and I helped out tending this year; seven of which made decisions for Christ and many others wanted to talk more with someone about their relationship with God.

Cru Staff Conference

In July we had a good time leaving the Arizona heat behind and going to our biennial gathering in Ft. Collins, Colorado. We had seven days of great speakers both from within Cru and from without. You can go to cru15.cru.org/archive to watch almost all of the speakers' presentations.

While we were there we went white-water rafting. That was a blast.

Craig and Sheila Greenwood with the Andre Kole Ministry of Cru greenwood@andrekole.org — 480-786-6527

Visit www.greenwoodministry.info for a story and photos about an historic performance by The Maze for the Cru staff. The Maze is an evangelistic magic show based on the outreach performance model which Andre pioneered. I think you will find the story and photos encouraging.

Comedy And Magic Program

Last week I was invited to perform for a Welcome Party for a ministry to Arizona State University international undergraduate students. (Photo above) It had been a while since my last show for adults, and the preparation to get back up to speed with my comedy magic show took more time than usual. But it paid off well and we all had a lot of fun. I look forward to getting back into more performing in the future.

GreenwoodMinistry.info

Again, I invite you to stop by the web site occasionally to see family/ministry reports, photos and videos beyond what can fit in a newsletter like this. New updates on the movie project will be posted soon.

Thank you very much for your partnership, be it financial or prayer, in the ministry God has given us.

